

LAWRENCE DUNCAN III

Lawrence (“Larry”) Duncan III is a Democratic government affairs expert, strategic advisor, and corporate attorney with over twenty-five years of experience representing Fortune 500 companies and national trade associations in Washington, D.C.

Larry joined Monument Advocacy as a partner in 2020. He provides strategic advice, legislative advocacy and counsel to clients across multiple business sectors, including technology, entertainment, financial services, transportation, energy and defense. Before Monument, Larry was the founder and president of Potomac Policy Advisors, a boutique government affairs and consulting firm, where he advised several major technology companies on a range of issues. Previously, Larry was a senior corporate government affairs executive at Lockheed Martin for more than seventeen years with responsibility for federal and state government affairs, strategic political engagement, and community affairs. Prior to that, Larry was a legislative and regulatory attorney at two major Washington, D.C. law firms representing several Fortune 100 companies. Larry began his career as a member of the U.S. Senate floor staff working for the Secretary of the U.S. Senate.

Larry is well known in the Washington, D.C. community. He serves on the Board of Trustees for Ford’s Theatre in Washington, D.C. He also is an active supporter of the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater and the National African American Museum of History and Culture.

Larry holds a B.A. in Government from Harvard University and a J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law. He resides in Potomac, Maryland with his spouse Janell and their two children.