Monument Advocacy and AK Public Affairs Announce Strategic Partnership

WASHINGTON – Monument Advocacy, a leading bipartisan government relations and public affairs firm based in Washington, DC, and AK Public Affairs, a prominent public affairs consultancy in Brussels, are pleased to announce a strategic partnership aimed at enhancing their global advocacy capabilities.

This partnership brings together two respected firms with a shared commitment to providing clients with unmatched expertise and insight on international policy issues faced by today's savvy organizations. Monument Advocacy's deep experience in Washington, DC, combined with AK Public Affairs' extensive network in the EU, offers clients a comprehensive approach to understanding and navigating the intricacies of technology policy and regulation on both sides of the Atlantic.

"We are excited to partner with AK Public Affairs to offer our clients a European perspective on their advocacy needs," said Andrew Howell, Head of Monument Advocacy's Technology and Cybersecurity practices. "This collaboration will allow us to leverage our respective strengths and provide clients with a seamless experience as they navigate the ever-evolving landscape of technology policy."

"This alliance represents a significant collaboration that will benefit AK Public Affairs' and Monument's clients," said Andreas Constantinides, Co-founder and Managing Partner of AK Public Affairs. "By combining forces in a year of important elections in the EU and the U.S., we can offer them a comprehensive suite of services that incorporates perspectives from both regions."
